

Elections: Road to the White House 2008

1. ELECTIONS: THE PROCESS

With a national convention in Denver in August, what a great opportunity for students to learn more about how candidates are chosen through an in-paper election series. Also includes a teacher's guide with activities for students to compare and contrast the 1908 and 2008 conventions.

2. ELECTIONS: CANDIDATES & ISSUES

When school starts in the fall, help your students learn more about the candidates, issues and election process with our in-paper series and teacher's guide. Plus, receive teacher-generated questions from the floor of the Democratic National Convention.

3. ELECTIONS: THE INAUGURATION

Historical perspectives of the inauguration and symbols of the presidency. A one-week program around the inauguration.

3. ELECTIONS: THE FIRST 100 DAYS

Follow the new president's first 100 days in office.

The program is geared for elementary, middle and high school students.

The election program offers our virtual electronic editions.

- Replica online newspapers give your students access to breaking news no matter what day it occurs.
